

Thank You for taking our cocerns seriously. The power of the free press can't be underestimated. Although I realize that the public as the final say as to whether they turn on a program or not. the general public is easily fooled into believing that opinion is news.